REBELLIOUS INK · TATTOO & PIERCING STUDIO

Resident artist offer

Dear artist,

Thanks for coming in to see us. Here is what we are offering at Rebellious Ink, so you have it in writing.

A 60/40 split. You keep 60 per cent of every tattoo you do here, the studio takes 40. No rent, no minimum, no fee for a quiet week. The studio only earns when you do.

What the 40 per cent covers

- A fully equipped station held for you on your agreed days: bed, arm rests, lighting, stool, power, set up and cleaned down to our procedures.
- Your disposables and consumables: grips, barrier film, clip cord covers, gloves, razors, stencil paper and transfer solution, ink caps and rinse cups.
- Basic needle cartridges are available in round liners and curved magnums. Specialist needles or sizes are not supplied, so bring your own.
- Standard black ink supplied by the studio. Bring your own colours and any specialist blacks you prefer.
- Our own-brand glide, made in house and available to you at the station.
- Sterilisation, autoclave logs, sharps and clinical waste contracts, and the premises licence with the council.
- The desk. We answer the enquiries, vet the clients, check ID, take bookings and deposits, send reminders and deal with no-shows and cancellations, so you can spend the day tattooing.
- Your own page on our website with your portfolio, enquiries sent straight to you through the studio system, bookings from our flash wall and the games, our promotions, social media and email list, and a share of the walk-ins.
- Settling up is simple and done the same day. The client pays the outstanding balance once the tattoo is finished; cash is our preferred payment. You keep your 60 per cent, put the studio's 40 per cent in one of the envelopes we supply, write your name and the date on it and post it in the cash box before you leave. Where a client pays by card or bank transfer through the desk, your share is paid to you by the next working day. Either way you can see a statement any time.
- Your own section of the wall. Put up your flash, prints and artwork as you like; it is your space to show clients what you do.
- Time to draw, support for guest spots and conventions, and a studio that wants you to do well.

Aftercare and retail

We stock aftercare and dressings and sell them at the desk, so your clients can pick up what they need before they leave. They are outside the split; the desk handles the sale.

What you bring

- Your own machines, power supply and personal kit, and your colour inks.
- Your own designs and drawing time.
- Your own public liability insurance (at least £5 million; we keep a copy of the certificate on file) and your own council registration.
- You are self-employed, so your own tax and National Insurance.

How the money works

- The split is on the price the client pays, after any discount and before tips. Tips are yours in full.
- The outstanding balance is paid by the client after the tattoo is done, cash preferred. Deposits are split when the session is done, not when they are paid.
- Flash and game bookings are split the same 60/40, and you are welcome to add your own designs to the catalogue.
- Retail, aftercare and jewellery are outside the split.
- We will review the split together after six months.

The full agreement sets out the house standards we ask everyone to keep to, such as bookings and deposits going through the studio system, settling up each day, and checking with the studio manager before posting anything that uses the studio name or logo. Have a read, ask us anything, and if you are happy we will get you set up on the system and on the website.
